The man who can beat all other candidates for Mayor: Alexander T. Stewart.

To-Morrow's Decision. The election in Pennsylvania to-morrow is justly thought to be of peculiar moment, because its result, whatever it may be, will go far toward settling the Presidential contest. But however great its political importance, it is nothing compared with that of the moral question which the people of Pennsylvania now have to determine. The struggle between good and evil, be tween honesty and fraud, between public rectitude and public plunder, is an old one and is constantly renewed; but never in our history has it been presented so broadly and so shamelessly as now in Pennsylvania. HARTRANFT, the candidate of the GRANT party for Governor, is covered all over with the proof of official villainy. Never before was a man nominated for any important office in this country against whom the evidence was so clear and damning. If such a man can now be take any convicted felon out of the penitentiary and have the people elect him to any office in which the party managers may desire to have him placed. The success of such a man now will prove that in Pennsylvania the distinction between right and wrong is no longer regarded as of the least importance, and that public plunder and universal fraud form the sole object and the special means of governing the State.

We know that the GRANT managers feeling themselves unable to gain this election fairly, have made extensive arrangements to carry it by fraudulent voting and false counting. In this they may succeed or they may be defeated. If they are defeated, it will be because the majority of the people are sternly opposed to fraud and corruption, and are resolved to put them down; if they succeed, it will be because the people are so far corrupted, so weak in moral purpose, and so destitute of energy and courage that any set of rich and unscrupulous scoundrels can sway them as they will.

But we cannot believe the people of Pennsylvania are thus hopelessly lost until the fact is proved.

The man who can beat all other candi-Alexander T. Stewart.

If we ever have Mr. STEWART for Mayor we must have him now. Mr. DUNCAN can wait. The best thing, as it strikes us, for Mr. Duncan to do is to go to Tamman Hall and move the nomination of Mr.

An Impartial View of the Presidential Field.

The whole number of electoral votes t be cast in this Presidential contest is three hundred and sixty-six, a majority of which is one hundred and eighty-four.

If the election were to take place to-day we think Greeley would certainly get the votes short of a major In the present aspect of the field we be

| Rhode Island | 4 Minnesota |
| North Carolina | |
| South Carolina | 7 Kansas |
| Florida | 4 California |
| Louisiana | 8 Oregon |
| Arkansas | . 6 |
| Mississippi | 8 Total |

It will be seen that this is thirty-two votes less than a majority.

The only States left out of the two tables above given are the following: Pennsyivania 29 Indians Ohio 22 Total

Taking for a basis the votes we have conceded to GREELEY and to GRANT, it is worthy of special notice that neither of them will have a majority without adding to his column the votes of two of the three States of Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Indiana. For example, the GREELEY column foots up 148. Add to it the 20 votes of Penn-ylvania, and he is sever short of a majority. The GRANT column foots up 152. Add to it the 29 votes of Pennsylvania, and he is three votes short of a majority. But, on the other hand, throw aside Pennsylvania and add to the GREELEY column the 37 votes of Ohio and Indiana, and it reaches 185, or one more than a majority of the whole. So, add to the GRANT column these 37 votes, and it reaches 189, or five more than a majority. These estimates show the important part which the three great central States will play in this Presidential election. The result will probably be determined by them.

The Escurial palace, monastery, and eatacomb, which was seriously damaged by fire last week, is the most peculiar public monumen in Spain. When PHILIP I. was fighting the tyr's memory in shape like the gridison, or which LAWRENCE is said to have been broiled. PHILIP won the battle, and his son, PHILIP II., fulfilled the vow. The building is 744 feet from north to south, and 580 feet from east to west. The interior is divided into courts, which represent the bars of a gridiron. The building ontains 515 shrines for the custody of miraculous relics, and places for the remains of Spanish sovereigns, whose relics were not considered nfraculous. It also contained a splendid library, with many rare books and manuscripts, and it is believed that a goodly portion of these valuable relies of Spain's literary grandeur have been saved intact.

Business Rotices.

A man with a family, however poor he may be, owes it to his wife to save her health and strength in every way possible. He has no right to allow the mother of his children to wear her life out toiling with her needle to clothe her family. His duty is to buy the New Wilson Under-Feed Sewing Machine, the best machine for family sewing ever i vented, and he can buy one for fifty dollars. More than this, he can buy the Wilson machine upon terms which will enable him to pay for it in small monthly installments, that he can spare out of his wag, swithout feeling the drain. He will get thereby a machine canable of doing every variety of family work in the most beautiful manner, a machine that even a child can operate and which if prove a permanent fadil and other cities in the United States. The company want agents in country towns.
